According to the 2018 World Youth Report, 1.2 billion people are aged between 15-24 years and it is predicted that this number will grow by 7% by 2030. Youth are hardly 'the future': they are 'the now'.

In the face of the current COVID-19 pandemic, this event brings together inspiring young leaders and experts from around the world. They will share their unique insights and practical examples of how youth are an active part of the global response to the pandemic.

Join us and the 17-year old founder of the world's most popular coronavirus-tracking site ncov2019.live, a Forbes 30 Under 30 Asia laureate, a 21 year old United Nations Green Ticket recipient, and many more at this exciting event.

This webinar is free-of-charge and open to all participants after registration on
